

The No Copyright Clause

Should MPD Creative pitch a design to you / your company that you love, but you don't think that we are the best company to build your stand, then contrary to standard industry practice we will waive our rights to the copyright and give you the design at no cost.

So if you really don't like us, or our price, but love our design, it's yours. Completely free of charge. I will even send you the CAD files.
